To whom it may concern

With immense pleasure, I am writing this reference letter in support of Angsuman Das who is applying for the Masters in Research programme in your esteemed University. I know him in my capacity as his teacher for about three years during which I taught him the courses of Genetics, Cell Biology and Histology in Under Graduate first, fourth and fifth semesters respectively. Through my observation, I would like to say that he is attentive and studious and possesses a positive attitude towards academics.

Throughout his course of study, Angsuman Das has shown great interest in practical aided learning techniques. He was engaged in several courses and research related discussions in which he confidently talked about his aspirations towards higher education. For his sixth semester project work, he successfully completed the dissertation work on the topic 'Analysis of physicochemical parameters of river Bohimora in Sonitpur district of Assam and evaluation of its macro-invertebrate diversity' under my guidance and supervision. Besides this, he has also gained experience in numerous simple concepts that are highly valuable for the future generation.

Besides the academic records, Angsuman's participation in Research Methodology workshop, state-level short workshop for biological research students held in our college, clearly displays his interest in research and creative aspects. As a person he is polite and always ready to take up responsibility and carries out his duties with immense dedication.

Throughout the years, Angsuman was an active participant in our discussions and he always supported his peers. I am certain that Ansguman Das is going to continue to do great and creative things in future and stand out as an individual in your institution.

I therefore, strongly recommend his name for the said programme and sincerely believe that Angsuman Das will give his best effort, unique energy, optimism, passion, and tireless creativity in your class and University as a whole. Thus, he has my highest endorsement for admission into the said course in your esteemed University. If you have any questions about this recommendation letter please do not hesitate to contact me. I shall gladly try to help you in this regard.

Yours sincerely,

01/11/2021.
